

International Business School The Hague

General Terms and conditions

Updated: March 2018

Contents

Acceptance and agreement.....	1
Admission at IBSH.....	2
Admission requirements	2
General requirements	2
Costs and fees.....	3
Refund of fees and costs	3
Requirements for Bachelor studies	4
Master and MBA specific requirements.....	4
Previous education	4
PhD Programme Requirements and Admission	5
Personal intake	5
Tuition fee payment	6
Re-enrolment.....	6
Disenrollment/termination	6
Payments terms.....	7
Privacy statement.....	7
Students at IBSH	7
Former students of IBSH.....	9
Disclaimer	9

Acceptance and agreement

By accessing and using the services of the International Business School The Hague (IBSH), you accept and agree to be bound by the terms and provision of this agreement. In addition, when using these particular services, you shall be subject to any posted guidelines or rules applicable to such services. Any participation in an IBSH service will constitute acceptance of this agreement. If you do not agree to abide by the above, please do not use or participate in IBSH services.

IBSH services include: Bachelor and master programs in Business Studies and International Relations, PhD program in Business and Management Studies, Diploma courses in several subjects related to Business and Management studies or International Relations, Language programs, short courses, tailor-made education events, research projects and literature studies.

Terms and Conditions for research projects and other assignments to IBSH are stated in the separate document: 'Terms and Conditions for research and other assignments given to IBSH'

IBSH services can be offered in cooperation with or on behalf of third parties. Academic degrees may be issued by IBSH partners. In that case IBSH guarantees that such degrees are equivalent to Dutch degrees in validity and international recognition. Partner institutions issuing degrees are fully recognized by their national authorities and, for the bachelor and master degrees, are under quality assurance according to the European standards of the European Quality Assurance Register for Higher Education (EQAR) and / or the European Association for Quality Assurance in Higher Education (ENQA).

Admission at IBSH

In order to be admitted, a student must have submitted a request for admission and fulfil the requirements for admission. If a student has not timely met these requirements, his/her application will be rejected.

- The student's identity and eligibility must have been confirmed.
- Students must either prove their (possibility of) legitimate residence in the Netherlands, or their eligibility for obtaining a student residence permit in the Netherlands,
- A student must prove that he/she meets the admission criteria of the educational programme. The admission requirements consist of general requirements, requirement of your previous education and English language proficiency. If a student does not meet the admission criteria, the student may not be admitted to the programme.
 - Students who did not complete their prior education in an Anglophone institution of education or do not hold a Dutch high school (VWO) diploma must offer proof that they meet the language criteria. For details see below.
- IBSH has two intakes per year: September and February. Admission starting on another moments in the academic year is only possible after written consent by the Dean or the Registrar.
- The registration and admission is only completed once the tuition fee has been paid.

Admission requirements

When applying for admission to any programme at International business school The Hague, your previous education and English language proficiency need to be sufficient. Besides, there are some general requirements to be able to apply for a program.

General requirements

A residence permit / visa

If you are a non-EU national enrolling for a full-time programme longer than three months, you will have to be eligible for a residence permit as student (or based on another legal ground, if applicable) in order to study in the Netherlands. For more information on this topic, see below.

Non-EU students wanting to participate in a three months or shorter program, will have to apply for a 90-days Schengen visa. IBSH will supply the documents necessary for application as far as applicable. The participant him/herself is finally responsible for a complete and valid visa application. IBSH cannot be held responsible for any visa application denial.

A written motivation

To apply for any programme, it is required to submit a written motivation letter of max 1500 words.

A completed application form

An application form must be submitted. Candidates should submit their application, including the form and any additional documents required latest by 17:00 GMT on the day of the deadline. The additional documents needed can be found here:

<https://www.ibsthehague.com/registration-form>

Financing of your fees and costs of living

Please note that IBSH is a private institution that does not offer scholarships. Please also note that students at IBSH are until further notification not eligible for support by the Dutch state.

Please also note that in order to be eligible for a student residence permit you will have to prove your financial capacity to pay the fee and the costs of living (for non-EU students that have no residence permit on other grounds than for study). For details see here:

https://ind.nl/en/Pages/income.aspx#Income_study.

Costs and fees

IBSH charges tuition fees for its educational services. These include a non-refundable registration processing fee and the tuition fee for the programme / course taken. Other costs, that are not tuition fees may include visa fee/ residence permit processing fee, health insurance and rent for accommodation that IBSH moderates.

Please note that IBSH offers services like accommodation search and health insurance only as intermediary, on a non-profit basis, charging exactly the amount the services cost. IBSH cannot take responsibility or liability for lacks, problems or complaints related to services that are obtained via IBSH as intermediary.

Please note that IBSH in general does not offer scholarships to cover tuition fee, costs of living and other costs. A limited number of students can profit from [add name] scholarships, that offer a reduced tuition fee. Eligibility of students for the scholarships is determined and decided by IBSH alone.

Refund of fees and costs

IBSH will refund tuition fee in case a student has an overriding reason (force majeure) not to join or to request disenrollment out of the IBSH programme registered for. Failure to obtain a visa or residence permit is always accepted as force majeure. However, in the case of refusal of a visa, refund of the study fee will only take place after an (unsuccessful) appeal to the visa refusal. For this, the student will authorise IBSH to act as his/her representative in the appeal procedure and will supply all documents and information necessary for IBSH to file the appeal. In other cases IBSH will be the sole judge of the question whether reasons for disenrollment or not joining a programme can be considered as force majeure. If a student request disenrollment after September 1st (autumn intake) or February 1st (spring intake), no reimbursement of tuition fee for that academic year is made, except for above-mentioned circumstances of force majeure. Please see below for more information on the topic of disenrollment.

Please note that under no circumstances will IBSH refund costs that are not tuition fees, such as but not restricted to: health insurance costs, visa costs, travel costs, costs of accommodation or general living expenses.

Notwithstanding the statement above, costs that were paid to IBSH in its role as intermediary for visa / residence permit processing, accommodation and health insurance will be refunded in the case of disenrollment because of an unforeseeable circumstance (force majeure), as far as the money has not yet been spent on its intended purpose.

Requirements for Bachelor studies

Previous education

Dutch students

The admission requirement for students with Dutch education is a VWO diploma, including mathematics.

Sometimes, it is also possible to be admitted with a propaedeutic diploma from a university of applied sciences (HBO-p).

If you have obtained or will obtain a VWO diploma, then you are not required to provide additional proof of your English proficiency.

Non-Dutch students

Your foreign diploma must be equivalent to a Dutch VWO diploma or a higher-level diploma. Your diploma will be assessed on an individual basis in order to determine whether you can be admitted.

Language requirements

Applicants need to have a sufficient level of English to follow the education at IBSH.

Sufficient control of English can be proven by:

- Dutch high school (VWO) diploma
- Prior Education in English
- Proof of English proficiency via English language test:
 - IELTS (International English Language Testing System): 6.0 or higher
 - TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language): 6.0 or higher

If your level of English is not sufficient, you can apply for additional English teaching:

- Present level: IELTS 5.0: You follow a preparatory period of a maximum period of 12 months.
- Present level IELTS 5.5: You follow a preparatory period of a maximum period of 6 months.

IBSH reserves the right to require additional English language training in the case a student doesn't show sufficient language control in class. In this case, a course programme and learning targets will be established for the specific student. Failure to obtain the required level of English even after additional training can be a reason for a negative recommendation for continuation of the study.

Master and MBA specific requirements

Previous education

One of the admission requirements is that you have a relevant bachelor diploma or equivalent. A foreign Bachelor's degree must be equivalent to a Dutch Bachelor's degree (BA or BSc). Your Bachelor's degree needs to be a study area relevant to the Master's programme you are applying for. Whether or not your bachelor diploma is a relevant qualification is determined on individual basis by the Registrar's office.

Language requirements

Applicants need to have a sufficient level of English to follow the education at IBSH.

Sufficient control of English can be proven by:

- Dutch high school (VWO) diploma
- Prior Education in English
- Proof of English proficiency via English language test:
 - IELTS (International English Language Testing System): 6.0 or higher
 - TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language): 6.0 or higher

If your level of English is not sufficient, you can apply for additional English teaching:

- Present level: IELTS 5.0: You follow a preparatory period of a maximum period of 12 months.
- Present level IELTS 5.5: You follow a preparatory period of a maximum period of 6 months.

IBSH reserves the right to require additional English language training in the case a student doesn't show sufficient language control in class. In this case, a course programme and learning targets will be established for the specific student. Failure to obtain the required level of English even after additional training can be a reason for a negative recommendation for continuation of the study.

A reference

You'll need one reference from a (former) supervisor or any person who knows you and your relevant characteristics sufficiently. We cannot accept a reference from a relative.

PhD Programme Requirements and Admission

IBSH offers a PhD programme in the field of Business and Management Sciences. The programme is a part-time programme based on seminars, research papers, professional skill courses and PhD research and thesis. Please note the following:

- IBSH does NOT offer PhD scholarships or research assistant positions. The programme is completely self-funded.
- Participation in the PhD programme does NOT afford the option of a student residence permit in the Netherlands, as the programme is part-time. In specific cases, PhD candidates able to finance a full-time stay in the Netherlands can contact IBSH for a special arrangement.
- Details of the PhD programme structure and content can be requested via info@ibsthehague.nl

Personal intake

Intake into the PhD programme is based on personal application by the candidate. Applications are reviewed by the Registrar's and the Dean's office.

Admission requirements into the PhD programme are a master degree in a subject relevant to the PhD program. Professional experience is an advantage for the PhD program, but is not an absolute requirement.

Eligibility of candidates is decided solely by the IBSH Registrar's and Dean's office.

A reference

You'll need one reference from a (former) supervisor or any person who knows you and your relevant characteristics sufficiently. We cannot accept a reference from a relative.

Tuition fee payment

When students are admitted to the program, they agree to pay the tuition fees and are responsible for doing so before the deadline. Non-EU students cannot apply for their visa/residence permit if they have not paid the full tuition fee for one year according to the IND (Dutch Immigration and naturalization service) regulations. Tuition fee payment is done by means of a bank transfer.

If the student's employer will pay the tuition fees, the Garantie verklaring form https://ind.nl/en/Documents/appendix_study_privateperson.pdf may be used. If the student does not have a Dutch bank account, the Confirmation Form <https://ind.nl/en/Pages/Sufficient-means-of-support-as-a-student.aspx> may be used, in which case the entire tuition fee has to be credited at the bank account of IBSH before the start of the academic year.

EU students must pay tuition fees before the deadline. For EU students, under special circumstances, the school can grant payment in instalments. Non-EU students cannot pay in instalments as it is not possible for them to get a visa if the tuition fees have not been fully paid.

In the case of arrears in payment IBSH can refuse access of the student to exams, classes and other ISH activities. If, after having received a reminder, the student and/or the account holder remain in arrears of payment, the enrolment can be terminated. The amount due will then be collected by a bailiff. The associated additional costs and charges will have to be paid by the student.

Re-enrolment

A student must re-enrol in his/her programme every academic year. This must take place before 1 September or 1 February, depending on the intake moment the student has used. After 1 September or 1 February (depending on the intake moment of the student), the student loses his/her right to re-enrolment.

Upon re-enrolment, a new payment confirmation must be submitted.

If a student receives a binding negative study advice, re-enrolment would not be possible.

If a student changes his/her study programme, the enrolment would be subject to the same deadlines and criteria as a new application.

Please note: if you are not yet fully enrolled, halfway September, your IT account for IBSH would be blocked. You will then no longer be able to make use of the IT facilities of IBSH. Students will be informed by e-mail if their enrolment is not fully completed.

Disenrollment/termination

A student is enrolled until the last day of their individual programme.

An enrolment may be terminated before the end of the academic year in cases such as, but not limited to a mid-year binding negative study advice, arrears of payment, or on the student's request.

After graduation, a student's enrolment will not be automatically terminated. The student will remain enrolled until the final day of their study programme unless the student requests for early disenrollment.

A student may apply for disenrollment via an email to the Registrar's office. Disenrollment will take place at the earliest as of the first day of the month following the disenrollment request.

A student may indicate that he/she wishes to be disenrolled as of a later date. Retroactive disenrollment is not possible.

If a student terminates his/her enrolment as 1 months prior to the start of the academic year (in case of September intake, or one month before the start of the second semester (in case of February intake), he/she would not be entitled to a refund of tuition fee. If the tuition fee has not been fully paid at the date of his/her disenrollment, the student would still be responsible for the payment of the tuition fees as previously agreed.

Any other costs that were paid to IBSH as intermediary for visa / residence permit processing, accommodation and health insurance will be refunded, as far as the money has not yet been spent on its intended purpose.

Payments terms

Invoices for services delivered by IBSH have to be paid within 30 days of the invoice date.

Privacy statement

IBSH collects and keeps information of students and former students according to the Dutch law (General Data Protection Regulation). The following data are collected and stored only for the purposes mentioned:

Students at IBSH

1. Data registration is done solely for the following purposes:
 - a. organisation or delivery of education, students' coaching and study advice;
 - b. making educational material and learning tools available
 - c. calculation, registration and collection of registration and tuition fees, contributions to or compensations for educational material and learning tools and extra-curricular activities, including the transfer of claims to third parties;
 - d. handling of conflicts and enabling audits;
 - e. keeping or applying any other legal regulations.
2. No other data will be registered than:
 - a. Family and given names, titles, gender, date of birth, address, postal code, place of residence, telephone number and similar data necessary for communication, bank account details of the person concerned;
 - b. social security number or national administrative number;
 - c. nationality and place of birth;
 - d. data necessary for the health or the well-being of the student;

- e. data concerning the religion or beliefs of the students, as far as there are necessary for the education;
- f. data concerning the nature and progress of the education, including academic progress and results;
- g. data necessary for the organisation of the education and for making educational material and learning tools available
- h. data necessary for calculation, registration and collection of registration and tuition fees, contributions to or compensations for educational material and learning tools and extra-curricular;
- i. data mentioned in sections 2a and 2c relating to parents or guardians of students;
- j. data, other than those mentioned in sections (a) to (i), whose registration is necessary or compulsory due to other legal regulations.

Former students of IBSH

1. Data registration is done solely for the following purposes:
 - a. To maintain contact with former students;
 - b. To send information to former students;
 - c. to calculate, register and collect contributions and gifts, including the transfer of claims to third parties and other activities of internal control;
 - d. To handle conflicts and enable audits.
2. No other data will be registered than:
 - a. Family and given names, titles, gender, date of birth, address, postal code, place of residence, telephone number and similar data necessary for communication, bank account details of the person concerned;
 - b. Data concerning the nature of the education and the period during which the former student studied;
 - c. data necessary to calculate, register and collect contributions and gifts;
 - d. An administrative identifier that does not contain other personal data than mentioned in section 2a,b,c.

Disclaimer

The information contained on the IBSH website and in program descriptions is indicative only. While IBSH has strived to make the information as accurate as possible, it is intended for personal and/or educational use only and is provided in good faith without any express or implied warranty. There is no guarantee given as to the accuracy of any individual item on this website or in program descriptions. Those accessing this website or program descriptions who require confirmation of any information should refer to the section of IBSH responsible for the information. IBSH does not accept responsibility for any loss or damage caused by the use of the information contained in this website or in program descriptions. Information provided about programs, plans, courses, staffing, procedures and services is an expression of intent only and is not to be taken as a firm offer of an irrevocable undertaking. IBSH reserves the right to discontinue or vary programs, plans, courses, staffing, procedures, services or other arrangements at any time without notice and at its discretion. IBSH reserves the right to impose limitations on enrolment in any course or program. While IBSH will try to avoid or minimize any inconvenience, changes may also be made to programs, plans, courses, procedures, services and staffing after enrolment.